Lenze vaccinates against CoVid-19 again

Christmas mood prevails despite serious occasion

Boosters, first vaccination or second vaccination - in the fight against the fourth Corona wave, Lenze is also resuming vaccination operations. Since the beginning of December, the automation specialist based in Hamelin has once again been offering all employees a vaccination against the Corona virus. From June to October 2021, Lenzians were already able to be vaccinated at the vaccination center set up specifically for this purpose at the site in Extertal. As serious as the pandemic situation is, the employees are not letting it take away their pre-Christmas spirit.

Since December 7, 2021, Lenze has been diligently vaccinating against the Corona virus again. The campaign is being accompanied by an internal information campaign, because Lenze believes that the more people are vaccinated, the better. As soon as those willing to be vaccinated from the workforce have been given their shot, the circle will be extended to the relatives of Lenze employees.

"Since the start of the pandemic our international motto has been 'Together we master this challenge'. It reminds us that everyone can contribute to the fight against the Corona virus - by adhering to hygiene and safety rules, but also by getting vaccinated," says Ralf Klemme, Director HR Germany. "But it also shows that we all - especially in pandemic times - depend on understanding, consideration and social cohesion. Together as #OneLenze, we are strong."

For Lenze, there was no question of resuming vaccinations against the Corona virus. Without further ado, premises were prepared at the Extertal site to ensure proper implementation. In accordance with the season, Christmas ambience was not to be missed. Even though the pandemic is a difficult time, everyone should receive their Corona vaccination with a positive Christmas feeling.

Over the summer months, Lenze had already called on its workforce to be vaccinated. In a vaccination center set up especially for this purpose, the company offered its employees first and second vaccinations against the Corona virus. Family members were also able to take advantage of this offer. In total, more than 1,200 vaccine doses were administered.
